DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention:

(1) the transmissive display regions or the reflective display regions of two adjacent dot regions provided at positions facing edges of the respective dot regions [claim 1; Fig.3];

(2) the transmissive display regions or the reflective display regions of two adjacent dot regions opposed to each other to sandwich a region between the dot regions [claim 2; Fig.5];

(3) the transmissive display regions or the reflective display regions of two adjacent dot regions opposed to each other at left position and a right position with respect to a direction which the dot regions are adjacent to each other [claim 3; Fig.6a]

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, no claim appears to be generic.

If Applicant elected species (1), a further election of one of the following sub-species is required:

1) transmissive display region arranged along the long edge of the dot region [claim 5; Fig.5];

2) transmissive display region arranged along one edge of the dot region and the thickness-adjusting layer provided along the three edges of the dot region [claim 6; Fig.12a];

3) transmissive display region arranged along three edges of the dot region and the thickness-adjusting layer provided along the other one edge of the dot region [claim 7; Fig. 12b];

4) transmissive display region provided along four edges of the dot region [claim 8; Fig.15a];

5) thickness-adjusting layer provided along four edges of the dot region [claim 9; Fig.15b].

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.
